DISBANDED TEACHERS

Advisory Council Quits Because of Opposition.

ANNOUNCED TO THE BOARD

Superintendent Chancellor Orders
Dissolution of the Organization
Because of Ill Feeling Aroused by Its Formation—No Action Taken in the Case of Miss Maten.

The Teachers' Advisory Council, which was planned by Supt. Chancellor soon after he took up the reins of office as chief of the local public schools, and which had just completed its membership at the last meeting, has been disbanded by him. The action was taken because of the ill feeling existing against the proposed body. Announcement of the disbandment was made at yesterday's meeting of the board of education by Capt. Oyster.

Just before time for adjournment, Capt. Oyster said that there was a matter he wished to bring before the attention of the board. Upon a request from him, he stated, the superintendent had informed him that the council had never been organized, that it had never elected officers, and that no committee on text books or other subjects had been selected.

Capt. Oyster stated that he had asked concerning the council for the reason that it was feared by some that in appointing committees, such as a committee on text-books, the council would usurp the authority of the board, and that it would breed discontent, dissatisfaction, and consequent trouble.

There has been much opposition to the council all along the line ever since the first members were elected last fall. Information was fostered by the superintendent with the object of bringing about a closer relation between the school officers and teachers. It was to have acted in an advisory capacity to the superintendent in advancing the standard of the schools by suggesting improvements and changes in the present system. One member was elected from each grade in the thirteen divisions.

No Action on Miss Moten's Case.
Contrary to expectations, Superintendent Chancellor's recommendation that Miss Lucy Moten, principal of Normal School No. 2, be reduced, and that some one else be appointed to the place, which was killed in committee just before the school board meeting a week ago, was not brought up for action. Immediately after the session, however, the committee on teachers and janitors held a special meeting in the superintendent's room, with Stuart McNamara, attorney for the board, present. It is understood this meeting was held for the purpose of considering the Moten case. It was stated by a member of the board that the recommendation was not brought up at yesterday's meeting for the reason that the superintendent had not decided whom to recommend for the place.

Attorney McNamara rendered a decision requested by the superintendent relative to the legality of promoting a teacher from one class to another, before such teacher had reached the highest grade, or salary, in the class occupied. The superintendent recommended that Miss M. R. Parkman "be transferred or appointed or promoted" to the position of teacher of English in Normal School No. 1, to fill a position just made vacant, and that Miss J. D. Fant, of division 3, be transferred and promoted to the position of practice teacher, grade 2, vice Miss Parkman. Mr. McNamara, after reciting the law, held that a teacher could be promoted from one class to another, provided she passed the necessary examination, and received the next highest salary in the class to which she was promoted, above the salary previously received. He also settled some other points relative to leaves of absence.

Other Opinion Not Ready.
In response to a query from a board member in regard to an opinion requested on the Citizens' Committee, Mr. McNamara said that he was not prepared to deliver it at the present time; that he wished to report on the Evans-Craig-Munroe case first. Upon motion of Capt. Oyster, the board tendered Mr. McNamara a unanimous vote of thanks for the manner in which he had handled the interests of the board, in rendering opinions and conducting the trials before the board and in the courts.

The board requested the superintendent to consider for reappointment to positions requiring less arduous work, the janitors dismissed at last week's meeting, who had grown old in the service and could not properly take care of big buildings.

Owing to the fact that Superintendent Chancellor will be out of the city on Wednesday, June 13, the next regular meeting date, adjournment was taken until Thursday, June 20, at 3 o'clock.

It was announced by Mrs. Mussey, chairman of the special committee, appointed to consider needed modifications in the present law governing the schools, that hearings will be given to teachers and others desiring to appear, commencing Monday of next week. Meetings will be held in the Franklin Building on Thirteenth street. The hearings for Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday have been arranged as follows:

Monday, 8:30—Classes 4, 5, and 6, including kindergarten assistants, model teachers of the first and second grades and kindergarten, and teachers of the first and second grades.

Tuesday, at 3:30—Classes 4, 5, and 6, including representatives of the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth grades and kindergarten principals.

Wednesday, at 3:30—All other classes, including high, manual training, and normal school teachers and principals, all special teachers, directors, and supervising principals.

All statements as to how the present law works and suggested amendments must be submitted in writing. Following these three meetings, hearings will be given to all persons interested.

Changes Are Approved.

BIBLICAL LECTURES PLANNED

Religious Educators Plan Series of Talks for Washington.

Studies in Scriptural Geography, Customs, and Literature Also to Be Features of Work.

Supervisors of the first section, Washington auxiliary, American Society of Religious Education, which includes the six churches on Columbia Heights, met Tuesday evening and perfected plans for the coming year. It was arranged to give a lecture on the first Sunday afternoon of each month, beginning in October, and continuing until June, all intended to increase the popular interest in the Scriptures. These lectures will be delivered in various churches by local talent who have been named, but who will be consulted before announcement to the public.

The topics selected are as follows: "The Bible and American Institutions," "The Bible and Civil Law," "The Bible and Civilization," "The Bible and English Literature," "The Bible and Shakespeare," "The Bible and the Home," "The Bible and Science," "The Bible and Spiritual Life," and "The Bible and the Church." Each lecture will occupy about forty minutes, and will be preceded by a musical program.

Another feature of the work in the section will be a series of thirty-two lessons in which a series of thirty-two lessons will treat the book in a thorough manner, covering its history, inspiration, geography, literature, customs, manners, &c. Dr. J. E. Gilbert will be the principal of this school, and he will have a faculty to assist him, comprising educators of ability. The school will be open the first week in October, and continue in weekly sessions until June. There will be a regular enrollment, and Sunday school teachers, young people, and others will be admitted.

The supervisors selected are one from each church, with the approval of the pastors, those from the Episcopal and Christian Churches not having been appointed. The officers are R. P. Evans, Methodist, president; Dr. W. H. H. Warman, Presbyterian, vice president; Robert T. Moffitt, Baptist, corresponding secretary; A. B. Cartwright, Congregational, recording secretary; and C. H. Hall, Friends Church, treasurer.

The plans adopted in this section are virtually those that will be introduced in the nine other sections of the city, for each of which supervisors will be appointed in the near future. The purpose of the entire city will constitute a city board for the management of the auxiliary. Through this board it is expected that Washington will be advanced to the first place among the cities in its studies of the Scriptures.

POWDERLY MADE CHIEF.

Takes Charge of Information Bureau in Immigration Division.

Terence V. Powderly has been appointed chief of the Bureau of Information under the Bureau of Immigration. For several years, until about five years ago, Mr. Powderly was Commissioner General of Immigration, and he left the service largely as a result of friction that existed between him and the department.

He handled his country, and he was appointed to the position by President Roosevelt and it was promptly accepted.

Last year, however, Mr. Powderly was employed by the Department of Commerce and Labor to make a special study of conditions in Europe affecting immigration, and he returned with a voluminous report to the department.

Mr. Powderly was grand master workman of the Knights of Labor, when that organization was at the height of its power, and he was appointed Commissioner General of Immigration early in the first administration of President McKinley.

J. A. HEDRICK DEAD

Wealthy Carolina Planter Passes Away Here.

STRICKEN WHILE ON VISIT

Death Prevents Fulfillment of Desire to Witness Graduation of Daughter at Vassar—Was Father of Mrs. Redfield Proctor, Jr.—Home Was at Salisbury, N. C.

On his way to witness the graduation of a daughter at Vassar, the one fond hope that he had anticipated all winter long, John A. Hedrick, one of the wealthiest planters and real estate owners of Rowland County, N. C., a brother of the late Benjamin S. Hedrick, principal examiner at the Patent Office for many years, died at the Georgetown Hospital yesterday of enlargement of the heart and a complication of lung troubles. Mr. Hedrick was the father of Mrs. Redfield Proctor, Jr., whose husband is a son of Senator Proctor, of Vermont.

Mr. Hedrick came to Washington Sunday of 1902 to visit a nephew, Charles J. Hedrick, of 3221 N Street. A son came from New York, and they had intended visiting relatives in Washington. Monday Mr. Hedrick was taken sick. His condition became serious, and it was decided to remove him to the hospital. He became gradually weaker until the end, early yesterday morning. Mr. Hedrick had been suffering from heart trouble for years.

Home in Salisbury, N. C.
Mr. Hedrick's home was in Salisbury, N. C., where he owned a great deal of real estate. He was also a possessor of several plantations, and altogether his holdings amounted to nearly a million dollars. He was brilliantly educated and a member of one of the best North Carolina families. He was sixty-nine years old and leave three daughters and two sons.

The body was taken to Salisbury last night by the son, Archibald Hedrick, an electrical engineer of New York, who was here at the time of his father's death. William A. Hedrick, a nephew, of the Washington High School, also accompanied the body. The funeral of the wealthy planter will take place Saturday, and he will be buried near where he was born.

Has One Other Son.
In addition to Archibald Hedrick, of New York, the rich landowner leaves another son, John Young Hedrick, of Salisbury, who is engaged in looking after his father's interests in North Carolina. A sister, Mrs. Sara Seigle, lives at Charlotte, N. C.

Mr. Hedrick was born in Davidson County, N. C., where he spent his boyhood days. Later he attended the New York University, where he graduated with the class of 1861. Before the civil war he was collector of customs at Beaufort, N. C. Later he became justice of the peace of Rowland County, which position he occupied for many years. Afterward he was a member of the board of education and took an active interest in the welfare of the community.

Mrs. Dent Repeats Charges.

Appears Before Commissioners Against Employment Agencies.

Mrs. Lydia Dent, police matron of Louisville, Ky., and a former agent of the Washington Education Society, as a result of whose allegations a number of applications for permits to conduct employment agencies were refused by the Commissioners, reiterated her charges at a hearing in the boardroom of the District Building yesterday.

The principal charge brought by Mrs. Dent was that the proprietors of employment agencies in question had stated that they could and would provide girls for disreputable houses. The charges were presented in the form of affidavits, Mrs. Dent being unable to appear. In the former hearings before the Commissioners, at the request of those proprietors whose licenses were withheld, the Commissioners asked that Mrs. Dent appear in person to substantiate her allegations. In every instance Mrs. Dent verified her former charges, stating that they were made as the result of a personal investigation, which was recorded in notes immediately following her interviews with the various proprietors.

James A. Andrews, Susan White, and Jefferson F. Tompkins, whose licenses as employment agents were revoked as the result of the investigation, each stated that they had been wrongly represented by Mrs. Dent. The Commissioners have not announced their final decision, but it is understood that the cases will not be reopened.
